Poll Tax Notice.

Arrangements have been made so that all who are due a poll tax to the Board of Education of this county, should be able to pay the same.

S. B. Easley and W. W. Gatewood appeared for the prisoner in the absence of his attorney, C. O. Harris of Ballinger, Texas. The District Attorney consented to Mullins pleading guilty in view of the circumstances in the case as it was impossible to dispose of the case at the present term of court and a change of venue had been applied for and the prosecution of the case would cost the county thousands of dollars with the possibility that after trial the death penalty would not be imposed. District Attorney Hervey only consented to the plea of murder in the second degree, upon the assurance and consent of counsel for the defense and the prisoner that the life sentence be imposed. Judge Pope in sentencing Mullins paid a high tribute to the deceased man and said he was everybody's friend and was also the best friend of the man who brutally shot him to death. Mullins stood up and heard the words that will imprison him for life without a quaver or sign of emotion. The murder was one of the foulest and most brutal in the history of Chaves county, and is a glaring example of the harm of whiskey as Mullins had been drunk for fifteen days and killed his best friend because he refused to give him a drink of whiskey. The majority of citizens here are not satisfied with the verdict and are of the opinion that justice has been defeated and that Mullins should have been hanged by his neck until he was dead. He is a physical wreck and will only live a few years can never be tried again for anything higher than murder in the third degree, and that he cannot be tried for the third degree for the reason that there is no third degree in the case; so that the verdict of the jury, to all intents and purposes, is an acquittal. They say that Hendricks is now entitled to bond and will be promptly bailed out as soon as the motion for a new trial is passed upon by the court, which will be ready for the court to act upon in a few days.

PROSPECTS FOR SETTLEMENT.

It Looks Now as if the Strike Might be Settled.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—It looks now as if the strike may soon be settled. At least the prospects are brighter today than they have been before since the beginning of the strike. There are, however, still too many questions left unsettled to warrant a confident prediction of any settlement. The announcement that the company has refused the services of a well known eastern strike breaker has given encouragement. Four lines of the city railway company are in operation today.

There was a riot today on Archer avenue in which several thousand men, women and children took part. The mob gathered and intercepted a number of wagons that were under escort conveying food to the barracks. The mob charged the police, throwing stones and missiles, but it was finally driven back after wrecking one wagon.

KISHINEFF TRIAL A MOCKERY

Reporters Excluded and No Report of the Proceedings Will be Allowed to Reach the Public

London, Nov. 18.—Private advices from Russia unite in the opinion that the trial of the perpetrators of the terrible massacre of Jews at Kishineff is to be a mere mockery. According to official announcement the trial begins today at Kishineff. The arrangements for the trial all tend to show that the Russian government does not intend light to be thrown on its responsibility in connection with the outrages. The minister of justice has ordered that the strictest secrecy regarding the testimony shall be maintained, thus excluding all reporters from the court room. No report of the proceedings will reach the public except through official channels, while the judges will all be dependents of the government, and the examination of witnesses will be under the influence of the administration authorities.

Although rumors of impending massacres were current a fortnight before the outrages, the indictment denies that the massacres were the result of previous organization. The indictment, however, proves that the massacres were not provoked by the exploitation of the local population by the Jews, since it states that the chief part in the riots was played by workmen of the central Russian provinces, where the Jews do not possess domiciliary rights, and therefore cannot exploit the Christians.

Y., Nov. 19.—Three hundred students representing seventy-five theological seminaries throughout the country are attending the triennial convention of theological students which opened in Rochester today under the auspices of the Y. Bishop M. S. Baldwin of Huron, President Rush Rhees of the University of Rochester and the Rev. W. Douglass Mackenzie, D. D. of Chicago, are among the distinguished participants.
